Applicant Presentation:

Ryan Horsley, reviewed his request for a certificate of appropriateness. For several years a rumor had spread that Nikki Sixx, a musician from Jerome, ID that plays with Mötely Crüe, purchased his first guitar from Red's Trading Post. This information was confirmed and Red's Trading Post would like to commemorate the purchase. They spoke with the representative from Mötely Crüe and they have been working on a sign rendering with the approval of Nikki Sixx. The sign will be stainless steel panel cut, acid washed. As for the exterior improvements to his building he would like to make some more definite decisions before the Commission considers this item. He asked that the decision today be for the Certificate of Appropriateness for just the sign.

Discussion Followed: Without Concerns

The commission also needs to consider the request for next year's grant. They are aware that the timelines will not be met and they are expecting a request for an extension.

V. NEW BUSINESS:

- Commissioner Watson stated it was recommended that the City use the National Parks Service Guidelines as code. He has started a document that is just an addendum to the code, approximately 10 pages and list similar to the WHO guidelines the history, architecture, and add a flow chart to assist the person in design for new as well as retro-fit construction. This will then direct them to guidelines in the NPS Guideline so they have some photos and reference materials for their design. After reviewing the WHO guidelines book he realized NPS Guidelines have just been edited and simplified to create the book used in the WHO district.
- Commissioner Rice stated she could work with the City Parks & Recreation Director to develop some history information for the Park Historic Overlay proposal.

Historic Preservation Commission

February 18, 2014 Minutes

- Planner I Weeks stated the buildings that are in the book need to be on the national registry as examples for the architecture.
- Commissioner Watson stated a map showing the properties that are on the national registry would be something to add. Definitions for contributing and non-contributing should also be included.
- Planner I Weeks stated there will be requirements to create the City Park Overlay District and then rezone the properties that would fall in this area on the map. It would be helpful to have a draft document, do an open meeting for the property owners that would be included in this district. Once the public open house meetings occurs a public hearing can be scheduled to move forward.
- Commissioner Watson stated he would continue working on creating the Park Historic Overlay Guidelines so that it can be reviewed open house meetings can be scheduled and the Commission can move forward to finish this portion of the grant project.
